WHĀRANGI MAHI

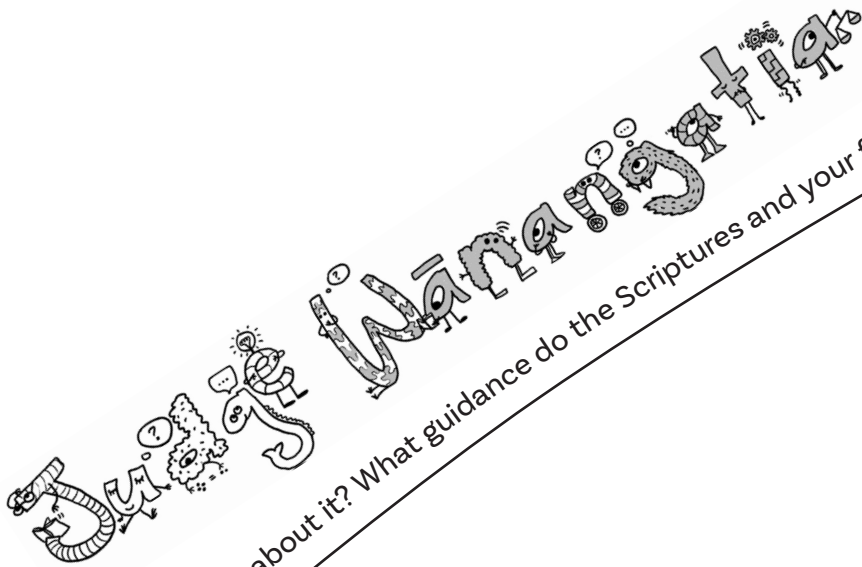

NAME:

CLASS:

What seems unfair from your point of view? At home? At school? In New Zealand? In the world?

What do you think about it? What guidance do the Scriptures and your faith give?

What is ONE act of love you can do to make our world a better and fairer place?
Write down your plan/steps if needed.

FAIR, YOU SAY?
Seeking fairness in an unfair world

HE TIKA, KI TŌ TITIRO?
E kimi ana i te tika i tēnei ao e hara i te tika

Here are 30 examples that may help when choosing an action to bring fairness and justice to our world.

Do a random act of kindness

Let someone take a turn before you

Share with others

Help out at home

Take an interest in others who are different from you

Stand up for someone who is having a hard time

Give to people in need

Treat people with respect

Change your consumer habits (for ethical reasons/focus on needs not wants/reduce your footprint)

Be more like Jesus

Be a voice for those who are forgotten

Put Acts of Mercy into practice

Say thank you to someone who deserves it

Turn away from sin

Find out more about fair trade practices and share with others

Forgive those who treat you badly

Listen carefully to others to understand how they feel and what they really mean

Offer to coach/mentor someone who is not as good as you at something you enjoy

Take part in Reconciliation

Incorporate the Church's teaching in daily life (e.g. living out Laudato Si')

Sign a petition for a cause that will bring fairness and justice

Fundraise for people affected by an emergency event

Plan an act of service as a class to help in your community

Demonstrate God's grace

Repair a relationship with someone you have hurt in some way

Use kind words to people who have been marginalised

Actively live the Fruits of the Holy Spirit (i.e. love, joy, peace, hope, kindness, patience ...)

Pray for those in need

Give your own time and volunteer to help out for a good cause

Write a submission about an issue/policy to address injustice
